

PACKERS ARE MENACE TO THE COUNTRY

All Soon Control World's Food Supply, Says Heney

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(By The Associated Press.)—J. Heney, former counsel of the federal trade commission, today before the house state commission declared within five, the five leading packers would control the food supply of the country and be able to charge what prices they desired. Mr. Heney said the packers had increased their activities in the fields that they had become a menace to the country. They control the cheese, oleomargarine and butter markets, he said, and rapidly are obtaining a monopoly of a large number of food products. Through their large capital and special privileges the packers declared they are able to rebates granted by the government. This gave them such an advantage over their competitors, he stated, that they soon obtained control of the market. The second step taken by the packers, he asserted, was the gaining of special privileges in the railroads for their refrigerator cars. Intended originally for perishable meat products, the packers, Mr. Heney said, use refrigerator cars for perishable and imperishable goods and at such a great saving in money and in time of delivery as to destroy competition. As a result, he said, wholesale grocers are being driven out of business.

Government Ownership.—Government ownership of refrigerator cars and stock yards is advocated by Mr. Heney as the only means of placing the packers on an even footing with their competitors and he said that even this could not cure entirely the packer evil. Cold storage plants should be built by the government in all big cities, he said, so that small cities would have a means of disposing of their products. Government regulation of the meat industry he characterized as "a habit of soon appointing the regulators themselves." He also said government ownership of the packing plants or exclusive licensing probably would be unsuccessful. Testimony submitted by the packers during the hearings was termed by Mr. Heney as "a virulent and unjustified attack on the federal trade commission. He said the packers made misrepresentations and called particular attention to their statement that they had not been allowed to state their side of the case during the commission's investigation. None of the packers questioned that he heard at any time, the witness said.

Mr. Heney also denied statements that the commission had made misuse of the packers' correspondence and that much of its evidence had been secured from uninformal persons or disinterested employees of the packers.

AVOR ONE DAY GENERAL STRIKE

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—A call for one day general strike of the labor in Chicago on April 1, the date of the municipal election was issued today by Morton L. Johnson, executive secretary in charge of the new labor party's headquarters. Already it was said three unions have approved the plan for an action day strike the purpose of which the secretary's statement declared is not alone to enable the union workers to vote but to give them an opportunity to spend the day at the polls working in the interest of the labor nominees. It is estimated that there are approximately 280,000 Chicago men and women who belong to unions. The labor party was planned by the Chicago Federation of Labor, the president of which John Fitzpatrick is the chief candidate for mayor and as born at the convention of the Illinois Federation of Labor at Danington, Ill., a few weeks ago.

Final Action On Big Revenue Bill Again Deferred

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Final action on the conference report on the six billion dollar war revenue bill was deferred today by an early adjournment of the senate in observance of the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln. This unexpected move came after Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, senior Republican of the senate conferees, had precipitated a general debate with a three hour's attack on what he termed extravagance and waste in appropriations since the war began.

While promising the revenue measure his support the Pennsylvania senator said it taxed the country about to the breaking point and asserted that the American people were alarmed if not disgusted, about congressional appropriations. He said money had been poured out in a kind of debauchery and he sharply arraigned the use of appropriations for the shipping board railroad administration and other government agencies. The Russian Bolshevik he asserted could have operated the railroads better than they have been operated by the government.

Senator Lewis of Illinois and Thomas of Colorado, replied to Senator Penrose's charges and declared if there had been extravagance in appropriations the Republicans were subject to the same criticism as the Democrats as united support had been given for war expenditures. Senator Smoot of Utah, Republican expressed alarm over the government's financial situation and urged the strictest economy. He plans to speak again tomorrow but both Democratic and Republican leaders, believe a final vote will be had before adjournment.

PRESIDENT EBERT OUTLINES POLICIES

WEIMAR, Feb. 12.—Frederick Ebert, president of Germany, in his speech accepting the presidency, said: "I will administer my office not as a leader of a single party but I belong to the Socialist party and cannot forget my origin and training. The privileges of birth already have been eliminated from politics and are being eliminated from Social life. "We shall combat domination by force to the utmost, from whatever direction it may come. We wish to found our state only on the basis of right and on our freedom to shape our destinies at home and abroad. However, harsh may be the lot threatening the German people we do not despair of Germany's vital forces."

RAILROADS SAVE MANY MILLIONS

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—Estimated annual economies of $6,442,618.84 were effected by consolidation of switching car inspectors, service, lines, stations, re-routing of freight trains and other means, according to the annual report of Hale Holden, railroad director of the Central Western region, made public today showing also an increase of 17.3 per cent in operating revenue.

Operating expenses increased 3.41 per cent, resulting in a decrease of 12.7 per cent in net operating revenue, according to the report covering only ten months not including November and December.

An additional saving estimated at $11,231,317.62 resulted from elimination of 389 passenger trains, eliminating 15,500,784 passenger car miles, according to the report and 38,793,614 passenger car miles were saved by discontinuance of parlor and observation cars and reduction of Pullman car service. The sailing plan has saved 4,672 cars a week in handling less than carload lots of freight, the report said.

COUNCIL AGREES ON NEW GERMAN ARMISTICE TERMS

Places Enemy Where Hostilities Cannot Be Resumed

PARIS, Feb. 12.—(By The Associated Press.)—The supreme war council met at the foreign office at 11 o'clock this morning for the purpose of reaching a final determination of the new terms of the German armistice. There were present in addition to President Wilson and the foreign ministers of the great powers, Marshal Foch, Field Marshal Haig, Marshal Petain, General Pershing and General Diaz.

A full agreement on the terms was presented in the report from the sub-committee, embracing military and economic members. The report was unanimous, including the adherence of the American members, General Tasker H. Bliss and Norman Davis, which indicates that economic measures figure in the new terms equally with military measures.

The report must be approved by the supreme war council before it becomes effective. The German authorities have been asked to furnish information confirming the amount of their war material, cannon, airplanes and other equipment. This question came up in the recent sessions of the war council when the extent of this war material was advanced as a reason for taking effective measures against the renewal of war-like activities.

Before determining on any such step, it was considered desirable to request information both as memo dealing with the subject and as testing the good faith of the enemy in disclosing the status of his military equipment.

Terms Will Be Drastic.

Although the committee was issued after the meeting of the supreme war council this morning the Havas Agency understands that the council decided first to place Germany in a military situation where it would be impossible for her to re-commence hostilities. It is pointed out that the enemy countries are preserving war materials permitting them to equip very rapidly an army of at least 3,000,000 men.

The council decided secondly, according to Havas to make Germany realize that we are the conquerors and that it is not a "white peace" that we are seeking to impose on her.

In case Germany submits with good grace continues Havas it is possible that the entente would facilitate the resumption of the entente's works of peace for the benefit of Germany. The council also had to examine the demand by the Poles that a clause be included in the armistice that the agricultural machinery stolen by the enemy should be restored.

The council's program also contained questions of effectiveness and the raising of the blockade concerning Turkey and Bulgaria.

DEMOCRATS ATTACK "DILATORY METHODS" OF REPUBLICANS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 12.—Democratic leaders of the Illinois house were making plans tonight to begin their fight tomorrow against what they term the "dilatory tactics" of the Republican majority in initiating legislation making possible immediate construction of state projects that would give work to returned soldiers and sailors.

Minority Leader Michael Igoe said he was preparing a resolution on the part of the legislature to the end that work may begin without delay on the $60,000,000 good roads project, the lakes to the gulf waterway, the new penitentiary at Joliet and other building undertakings. Mr. Igoe announced that he would present his resolution tomorrow.

Republican house members are ready to defend the state administration and the Republican majority and to offer what they say is sufficient to prove that everything possible is being done to expedite state projects. Some Republican members have pleaded exorbitant prices of building materials and the high cost of labor as reasons why it might be policy for the state to go slow on building plans. While the attitude of Governor Lowden has not been officially announced it is understood that he is not willing to go ahead unless he can be assured that the work can be done at reasonable expense to the state. Both house and senate committees were in session throughout the afternoon today following adjournment at noon after the Lincoln address by Congressman William A. Rodenburg of East St. Louis. The house judiciary committee reported out favorably on Representative Mueller's bill permitting judges to increase salaries of probation officers in Cook county to maximums of $1,800 to $3,000.

Greatest Danger Not from Without But From Within

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 12.—As Lincoln prophesied before the Civil War, so it is true today that "our greatest danger is not from without but from within." Governor J. A. A. Burnquist of Minnesota, Lincoln Day orator at the annual banquet of the King county Young Men's Republican Club said tonight. "The most threatening menace to our free institutions today," he asserted, "is not our own sectionalism, the despotism of a Spain or the kaiserism of Germany. It is, in the words of Lincoln, 'the increasing disregard for law which pervades the country.'"

"It is the spirit of Bolshevism which is 'springing up amongst us' and which if not checked, will eventually produce a class war that may be even more serious to our nation than any of its previous conflicts."

Governor Burnquist enumerated three movements which are "now being promoted in this country" and which are indicative of the present danger.

These he gave as the I. W. W., Socialism and the Non-Partisan League. "The notorious organization called the I. W. W.," he said, "has for its well known purpose the revolutionary destruction of our political institutions. In certain localities this anarchistic organization has gained an amazing amount of strength, and through the country it has issued membership cards to the extent of hundreds of thousands."

Leaders of the Non-Partisan League, the speaker asserted, are closely connected with the I. W. W. and the Socialists. Their work likewise is being carried on in "practically every section of the union for the purpose of uniting upon a basis of class distinction, the laboring elements of our cities and our rural population of the country."

"The end," he continued, "desired by the more radical of these discontented elements is the establishment in America of a Bolshevik government similar to that in Russia. They believe in the rule of the minority and that that minority should be the proletariat."

"The less radical seek to enact legislation placing all industrial institutions under government ownership, control and operation, resulting ultimately in the complete surrender of usual rights."

BITTER FIGHTING IN ARCHANGEL

ARCHANGEL, Tuesday, Feb. 11.—(By The Associated Press.)—Bolshevik forces have resumed the offensive in the region of Sredmakrenga. For a brief time last night the Bolsheviks occupied several allied blockhouses after penetrating the town, but they were driven out by a British and Russian counter-attack. The fighting continued today.

Patrol activity continues on the Kadish sector but the American, British and Russian troops maintain the gains made in the offensive last week.

On the Pinega sector, east-southeast of Archangel, Russian partisan forces drove back the Bolsheviks yesterday.

"The French foreign legion," which composed of Russian volunteers trained at Archangel by French officers is now fighting on the Kadish front. The weather conditions clear and cold along the entire front. The days rapidly are growing longer and there are now eight hours of daylight, increasing the length of the engagements.

SPEAK IN INTEREST OF PEACE LEAGUE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 12.—Former President William H. Taft and Henry Van Dyke, former minister to the Netherlands, the principal speakers at the league of nations congress here endorsed President Wilson's plan for a conference of great powers to preserve peace and uphold democracy and sharply took issue with opponents who have been quoted as declaring that the constitution of the United States forbids American participation in such an international force. The oceans were mentioned as bonds uniting the nations with the old world, the people of the United States were referred to as a "peace loving nation of fighting men" and declarations were made that the potent force which drew the sympathy of Americans to the allies from the beginning is the same force which now is bringing these nations toward a common agreement for the purpose of ending world warfare.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—General Leonard Wood today took formal command of the central department of the army at Chicago.

Extend Time For Filing Income Tax Returns

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Although no general extension of time for filing income tax returns will be authorized, Commissioner Roper announced tonight that corporations which cannot complete returns by March 15 will be permitted to return the estimated tax and make a revised return within 45 days. It was explained that by this plan the government would be able to collect the approximate installment due next month to meet its urgent needs and corporations actually needing extension of time would in effect receive it.

Taxpayers will not be relieved of interest on such amount as a payment may fall short of the tax found later to be due.

If the installment due March 15 is greater than shown by the completed return, the excess will be credited to the next payment. "One of the advantages to the taxpayers," said Commissioner Roper is that it relieves him of one half of one per cent interest month that would attach to the payment of the taxes under an extension granted at his own request."

Provision for systematically handling this new feature will be made in the construction of the new return blanks for corporations and a statement in writing of the reasons why it is impossible for the corporation to complete the return by the specified date must accompany every such request.

Individual taxpayers will be given similar privileges but no reason exists according to the internal revenue officials for delaying the filing of returns of individual incomes except in unusual difficult cases. Forms for returns of individual incomes up to $5,000 will be distributed by collectors within a few days.

Forms for larger incomes will be available about Feb. 24. Corporation blanks will be distributed by March 1. Regulations governing the administration of the new income tax will also be available before March 1.

CHICAGO POLICE RAID I. W. W. HEADQUARTERS

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—The police today raided the once busy general headquarters of the I. W. W. and arrested twenty-nine leaders "to see who they were and why they were not working," an official said.

Government agents professed no interest in the raid although the police said the arrests were made with the knowledge of the government. The I. W. W. headquarters has been little activity since William D. Haywood, the head of the organization and nearly a hundred others were convicted of conspiracy and sent to Leavenworth prison last fall.

The activity of the authorities against the I. W. W. was continued by the police after published reports of the alleged conspiracy against the life of President Wilson and also, government agents said, against W. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury for which Pietro Piera was arrested in Cleveland yesterday. Pierre, an I. W. W. released last October from Leavenworth penitentiary had expected to obtain financial aid in Chicago.

Captain Thomas I. Porter of the secret service said Pierre had been trailed thru Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. He dodged his pursuers in Virginia, Minnesota only to turn up in Cleveland where government agents effected his arrest.

The police after looking over the prisoners taken in today's raid said no obnoxious aliens or agitators with bad records had been taken.

De Palma's kilometre time was 15.56 seconds or two seconds below the record.

Crist, deputy commissioner of naturalization, who declared today that such a condition would not be permitted in any other country and appealed to American citizens to help in making citizens of alien residents. He said there were 10,500,000 persons in this country who still retain their allegiance to the land of their birth.

"It is our duty and our necessity to convert this multitude into loyal American citizens."

LLOYD - GEORGE SUMS UP GENERAL PEACE SITUATION

British Premier Defends Proceedings of Conference

LONDON, Feb. 12.—(By The Associated Press.)—Premier Lloyd George spoke again today on the general peace situation.

The occasion was brought about by the Right Honorable Rupert Guinness, Unionist, asking whether the premier was prepared to press to the utmost reparation from Germany and also to make Germany pay to the full extent of her resources. He also pressed for more information as to the status of the British colonies at the peace conference.

"We have had far too much of the particular passions which the American is supporting at the conference," said Captain Guinness. "Since the days of Mahomet no prophet has been listened to who hovers superstitious respect than President Wilson."

Mr. Lloyd George began his reply by saying that reparation by Germany was the election pledge given by the government after careful consideration by the cabinet. The government, he added stood by every word of this pledge.

The premier, defending the proceedings of the peace conference said government had been devoting its time to speeding up agreements. He was sanguine that a complete agreement would be reached concerning the German western boundary but the eastern boundary was a difficult matter. Until the commission sent to examine the matter reported, the allies would be in no position to make demands upon Germany.

The conference was unanimous, he said, that Germany had forfeited all rights to her colonies. Mr. Lloyd George contended that with regard to indemnities the British government in advance of any government as it was the first to appoint a commission to deal with this matter. He declared there had never been any proposal advanced at the peace conference to recognize the Bolsheviks. Russia was easy to dogmatize about but difficult to deal with. He admitted that the horrors of Bolshevism were so great that there was a sense of disgust when they came to deal with its leaders, but it was useless to blind their eyes to the real facts.

Russia represented in area over half of Europe, and nearly half of Asia and, he pointed out, if peace were not made the whole of this immense territory would be seething in anarchy, disorder and bloodshed; there would be no peace in the world.

Assaults Bolsheviks.

The Bolsheviks the premier declared were assassins, guilty of the crimes laid to their charge. The allies had given the anti-Bolshevik governments financial support and assistance. Much of their equipment had been supplied by the allies who were anxious to keep the rich territories of Russia out of German hands.

If troops were to be sent to Russia, he should send them? America he said would send neither men, money nor material and the work would fall upon the British and French.

The Bolshevik machinery in Russia was ruthless and brutal, but there was no doubt about its efficiency and it was the only machinery there. Everybody in the past who had interfered in Russia had come to grief. There was no idea of recognizing the Bolsheviks; it was quite impossible to do so as long as they were pursuing their present methods.

It might be argued, he said that the Bolsheviks governed by terror. The same could be said of the French Revolution. He was unable to dislodge the figures that intervention would involve, but, after seeing them, no sane man, he declared, would advise the allies, after five years of war, to undertake the enterprise. The Bolshevik military power had grown strong while both England and Germany were too occupied to attack it.

"If we won, how long should we occupy the country?" he asked. "And what guarantee would there be that when we withdrew, a dependable government would be set up?"

Referring to the alternative of allowing the fire in Russia to burn itself out the premier characterized this as a brutal policy and added that it would be useless to send food to Petrograd when the only distributing organization was Bolshevik.

Must Help Russia.—Lloyd George urged that the Allies must do their best in the interests not only of Russia, but also of Great Britain and of the world to restore order and good government in that distracted country.

Mr. Lloyd George was sorry to hear members talking in rather slithering tone about the league of nations. Any one attending the peace conference must realize how much the little nations were

Classes I. W. W. Movement In U.S. With Bolsheviks

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The Bolshevik regime in Russia was described today by the Rev. G. A. Simons in testimony before the senate committee investigating lawless agitation in the United States as a minority military dictatorship supported by terrorism. Dr. Simons, who for many years has been head of the Methodist Episcopal church in Russia said most of the Bolshevik leaders were Jews, many from the East Side of New York, and that they had set aside large sums for the spread of their doctrine in all countries of the world.

The I. W. W. movement in this country which the committee has included in its general inquiry was said by Dr. Simons to be identical with the Bolshevik system.

Bolshevik Campaign.

Bolshevik propaganda apparently is being carried on in the United States, Dr. Simons said by means of speakers, pamphlets and articles in newspapers and magazines. He declared that John Reed and Albert Rhys Williams, American writers had been closely affiliated with the Bolshevik government in Russia, and that Williams had come to this country with a quantity of Bolshevik publications.

Dr. Simons explained that he did not mean to cast reflections on Jews in general. He said the better classes hoped for the overthrow of the present regime and that Jewish rabbis had thanked him for exposing the situation within the Bolshevik organization.

The witness declared not more than one fifth of the whole of Russia was represented in Bolshevik movement, that 90 per cent of the peasants and probably 75 per cent of workmen were not in sympathy with the Lenin government which he described as a "dictatorship of the proletariat."

Dr. Simons said that in a prominent educational institute in Petrograd, young girl students had been compelled to live in the same quarters with the Bolshevik red guards and that the practice was sanctioned by the Bolshevik leaders. At this point the committee went into executive session at which Dr. Simons gave names of Americans suspected of being Bolshevik propagandists in the United States.

Mrs. Natalia Summers, widow of Maden Summers, American consul general at Moscow will testify tomorrow. She is a native of Russia and came to the United States after the death of her husband several months ago.

287,332 TROOPS HAVE EMBARKED FOR U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—From the signing of the armistice to Feb. 8th, 287,332 American troops in France and Great Britain had embarked for the United States, while up to February 10, 67,454 officers and 1,069,116 men had been demobilized in this country. Total arrivals of overseas troops up to February 7 were 215,749.

The figures were made public today by Secretary Baker together with others relating to the number of sick and wounded now in France and the number returned home. Men in France being treated for disease on Feb. 1, totaled 62,561 and those suffering from wounds were 24,484. The aggregate of 87,045 was 4,688 more than in the preceding week and 106,403 less than the number in hospitals overseas on Nov. 14.

Since the ending of hostilities 53,042 sick and wounded have arrived in this country bringing the total since the beginning of the war 63,160. On Feb. 1, the occupied beds in hospitals in the United States numbered 60,770, while there were 47,048 vacant beds available for returning cases.

George Nichol of Kansas City won today's 125 target race with 123 breaks. The 125 target race unfinished yesterday was won by Frank Troch of Vancouver, Wash., whose 124 remained high.

In the interstate amateur white flyer event at fifteen targets, Watson, A. H. Winkler, Chicago; F. G. Fuller, Mukawago, Wis.; W. T. Craig of Jacksonville, Ill., and G. Mitten of Fort Collins, Colo., scored the limit.

In the shootoff, dropping out upon missing, Watson was declared the winner with a run of 13 straight. Second place in today's target race was a triple tie between Harvey Dickson, Oronogo, Mo.; George Rubb, Wetmore, Kans., and Frank Troch, Vancouver, Wash., with 121 each.

In completing today the 125 target race unfinished yesterday by 29 shooters, got 24 of his last 25 targets for a score of 123. He could have tied Troch with a run of 25 for first honors.

OPPOSITION TO STANDING ARMY OF HALF MILLION

Authorized In National Defense Act 3 Years Ago

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—General opposition to a standing army in excess of 175,000 men as authorized in the National Defense Act three years ago was voiced in the house today during debate on the annual army appropriation bill. With its provision for a military force of 536,000 officers and men during the period of demobilization. Chairman Dent of the military committee was questioned closely as to the future army with several members asking if the force provided in the bill was to be the permanent army strength. The chairman explained that it was not and there was general applause from both sides of the house when Representative McKenzie of Illinois, Republican, said the military committee favored a small army. Mr. McKenzie said the proposal of the army general staff for a permanent peace time military establishment of 500,000 had been rejected by the committee and Representative Kahn of California, Republican, interrupted to say that not a single member of the committee favored the proposal.

Long Discussion

Discussion in the house continued through the day with leaders offering no prediction as to when a vote would be taken on the measure which carries a total of $1,100,000,000 for the war department during the fiscal year beginning next July 1. Debate was not confined to the bill itself. There was criticism of the war department, praise for General Pershing and various American units which fought in France, discussion of the national guard and protest against President Wilson accepting a set of books as a birthday gift from King George of England.

Much of the discussion was given over to the national guard. Representative McKenzie said that whatever the future military policy might be the national guard should be retained and his declaration was vigorously applauded. Other members in urging retention of the guard after demobilization praised the work of the guard divisions during the war. Representative London of New York directed discussion to Bolshevism with the declaration that "every new thought or new idea is called Bolshevism" which he declared was a passing stage of revolution common only to Russia. He urged repeal of the espionage law declaring that Socialists had been unjustly imprisoned by its application to throttle free speech and free assembly.

Walsh Replies to London

Representative Walsh of Massachusetts, Republican, declared that Mr. London's interest in repeal of the espionage law, might be with the view of pre-judging the case of one of his colleagues, Representative-Elect Berger of Milwaukee, whose utterances, Mr. Walsh declared, were so unliking our people during the war as to aid its prosecution.

"We do not need the urgings and teachings of Lenin and Trotsky or the New York Socialist and his associates in improving our government," added Mr. Walsh.

Republican Leader Mann criticized the delay in casualties reports saying that the Red Cross, although having information was forbidden from giving it to soldier's relatives unless the war department had previously announced it.

Representative Shallenbarger, of Nebraska, Democrat, in praise of General Pershing, declared the United States was the only country in the war to pick an army head who stood the test and added that Pershing was the first general to declare that the German army could be beaten and that the Hindenburg line could be smashed.

THE WHITE PLAGUE.

Those enthusiastic in their work against the tuberculosis plague can find new argument for their campaign in the fact that 24,000 American soldiers have been discharged from the army because of tubercular tendencies. These men are not only unfit for military service but a great source of public expense and also a menace to public health, as without the greatest care on their own part those affected with tubercular troubles spread the disease.

PERHAPS HE'LL EARN IT.

The shortage of funds doesn't seem to bother the new government in Germany. The annual salary fixed for the president of the German republic is 1,000,000 marks, which means about $250,000. This sum is about five times as great as the salary of the president of the U. S. Possibly the Germans think that the troubles the president of the new republic must meet will make him earn even this handsome salary.

STARTLING IMMIGRATION FACTS.

Senator Spencer of Missouri believes that the foreign element is at the basis of most labor troubles in the U. S. To remedy this difficulty the senator proposes an amendment to the immigration laws which would provide that naturalization of every foreigner must be completed within five years. Such requirements for citizenship would be enforced, according to the senator's plan, that the menace from aliens would be virtually removed.

That this is one of the most important questions before the American people today is shown by the fact that one-tenth of the population of the U. S. is made up of unnaturalized aliens. The figures further show that there are 10,500,000 citizens who are now retaining allegiance to the countries from which they came.

PRODIGAL RECONSTRUCTION PLANS.

If some Democratic reconstruction plans are given free sweep at Washington there should be no lack of work nor money for general distribution. One little thing that the Democrats seek is an appropriation of $100,000,000 for expenditure by the secretary of the interior in making such public improvements as seem to him wise. Another bill proposed is to make an 8 hour day effective on farms.

Just how this would be accomplished without a direct organization of farm labor the Democratic statesmen fostering the bill do not indicate. At any rate its effect would be to greatly increase the number of workers needed on the farm. If some of the Democratic statesmen had full sway there would be a general distribution of money among all citizens every thirty days—that is, as long as the funds last.

JUDGE THOMPSON MAY BE CANDIDATE.

It is said unofficially that Judge Owen P. Thompson may become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the supreme bench in this judicial district. Numerous friends of Judge Thompson in this county and in other counties of the district, are said to be urging his candidacy. Judge Thompson's long judicial experience on the circuit bench would make him a formidable candidate.

RECLAIMED LAND FOR SOLDIERS.

Senator Wheeler has introduced in the Illinois legislature a bill which proposes the reclamation of swamp lands in this state. A similar bill has been introduced in the house. Both of these measures provide for reclaiming of waste lands in the state, which it is said amount to nearly a million acres. The intention is to reclaim this land and then to sell it to returned soldiers at cost.

The project is in line with the proposal made by the federal government to reclaim lands and then provide the way for turning it over to soldiers as a proof of the appreciation of their countrymen for war service rendered. The great trouble with the whole proposition is the time element. The reclaiming of land on any extensive scale is a long process and thousands of soldiers who might be interested in securing desirable lands now will be occupied with other lines of work long before any of the reclaimed land will be ready for their tenure.

WATER PROJECT PLANS ADVANCE.

The visit of the legislative committee here yesterday to look over the site of the proposed water reservoir indicates the interest which the general assembly has in the local water situation. The bill prepared for the transfer of land adjacent to the pumping station to the city of Jacksonville represents the wishes of citizens and its adoption will mean that a long step has been taken toward the accomplishment of the water enterprise.

It is fortunate, indeed, that state officials are taking such active interest in the project for that interest indicates early action. There have been so many unavoidable delays in the progress of plans for water supply that it is indeed gratifying that the prospects are so excellent for the passage of the bill, which will mean the beginning of the end in making certain the water project.

drink to knock the good man down, his funeral would make you think a circus is in town. The sextons chortle as they work and dig the clammy clay, and in the shadow of the kirk the pastor yells "Hooray!" The undertaker is on hand, with festive blits and runes, and by the fence the village band is playing ragtime tunes.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ORGANIZED.

An Epworth League was organized at the Lynnville Methodist church Wednesday evening. At the close of an earnest address on "Life as Service" by Rev. G. T. Wetzel, the pastor proposed the organization of the league, and between fifteen and twenty persons were enrolled as members.

It is expected that this number will be at least doubled. A committee was appointed to nominate officers and a meeting will be held in a few nights to complete the details of organization. All whose names are enrolled by that time will be considered charter members.

THE LYNNVILLE MEETINGS.

But two nights remain till the close of the special meetings at the Lynnville Methodist church. Both of these services will be of especial interest. Tonight will be "Fellowship Night." The service will be in the nature of a union meeting of the Methodist and Christian churches, the sermon being delivered by Rev. L. R. Croukhite of the Christian church. Friday night will be "Women's Night." Mrs. E. G. Coon, conference secretary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, will speak on "Woman's Part in the Centenary Movement." She will probably be accompanied by one or more of the women workers of the Jacksonville Methodist churches.

At the close, as a fitting finale to the very helpful series of meetings, a brief social will be held under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society.

EXEMPTION BOARD NEWS

Miss Genevieve Mount, chief clerk in the office of the local board, is to go to Springfield soon to engage temporarily in work in the office of the adjutant general. Miss Mount will be in the state office for a period of three or four months during the time that the local work is done on records in connection with selective draft. Miss Mount is one of the forty clerks in the state of Illinois chosen for this work and the fact of her selection is indicative that the work of the local board office has been handled in a manner which has the approbation of department officials. In fact, the record work of the local board has frequently been complimented.

LIBRARIANS HELD CONFERENCE IN CITY

Interesting Themes Discussed by Librarians from Central Illinois Cities.

An all day session of librarians from central Illinois was held at the public library in this city Wednesday, and various problems in connection with the work were considered. The meeting was of an informal character, but the program was one of special value to the librarians. Mrs. O. F. Bufile, the president of the library board, presided, and the morning session began with the discussion of "The Moral Obligation to be Intelligent." Miss Koseck of the Springfield library gave an interesting account of the Americanization work now being carried on there with the immigrants from the various nations.

The discussion on thrift and conservation was led by Mrs. J. Parker Doan, conservation chairman. An opportunity was given for the asking of questions and the facts thus brought out were of an interesting kind. The problem of returning soldiers and the demands they will make upon librarians was next discussed. It is thought that there will be an increasing call for practical books. There was an interesting exhibit of pictures from the state library committee at Springfield. The collection includes pictures of buildings of various kinds, and copies of many famous paintings in foreign galleries as well as the galleries of this country. The exhibit also includes many volumes on art and the collection is being loaned to various libraries throughout the state.

Needed library legislation was the next theme for discussion, following which adjournment was taken for luncheon which was had at the Peacock Inn. At the afternoon session the topic of Children's Work and Libraries in public schools was considered. Miss Mann of the local library told an "Uncle Remus" story which was much enjoyed. Among those in attendance at the conference were Misses Koseck, Goodnow, Perkins and Corcoran of Springfield; Miss Brewer, Mt. Sterling; Mrs. Stetson and Miss Strong, White Hall; Miss Wright, Carrollton; Mrs. Ehrhardt and Miss Seeger, Beardstown; Mrs. Hebbert, librarian at Illinois college; Miss Jackson, librarian at the Deaf; Miss Thompson, Woman's college librarian; Supt. H. A. Perrin, Miss Lydia Barrette, Miss Mann, Miss Hamilton and Miss Havenhill of the local library.

SEEK TO INCREASE DAIRYING INTEREST

The meeting to be held at the court house this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock will be one of interest and profit to dairymen and farmers, and it is hoped that all who desire to see an improvement in dairy cows will attend. County Agent G. B. Kendall will preside, and two addresses will be made by men of experience in the dairy business.

The dairy cow campaign which is now being conducted in Illinois will be the subject of the address by President J. A. Mason of the State Dairy Association. Mr. Mason is a dairyman of many years' experience and will be able to present many valuable suggestions for improving the industry. H. E. Barker, general manager of the Lisle Farm Co., of Lisle, Ill., will talk of the problems of the dairyman, and his address will be well worth hearing. Mr. Barker appeared on the program of the state dairymen's meeting held in Champaign recently.

Old Boozie.

Old Boozie is dead, so toll the knell for this old maudlin knave, the mourners raise a joyful yell as they stand by the grave. Old Boozie hung on with teeth and nails, he tried to dodge the tomb, he hoped to sell his gins and all until the crack of doom. He hoped to do his ancient task till Father Time is gone; but we've outgrown the demijohn flask, outgrown the demijohn. Old Boozie is dead, at rest he lies, cashed in beyond recall; he never helped a man to rise, but made a million fall. Old Boozie will sleep beneath the loam until the bright sun pales; he never built a toiler's home, but he filled many jails. Old Boozie has crossed the great divide to see what's doing there; and we'll have less of suicide, and less of black despair, and we'll see less women's tears, of children needing bread, of wages gone for foaming beers, since Old Man Boozie is dead. He'll dish no more the poison

$200.00 Cash Prizes for the best answers

You never saw me, folks, did you, without the famous kettle on my tail? Everybody wonders why it's there. Well I've never told the secret yet, but now I'm going to give everybody who reads this a chance to guess it, and at the same time win one of a number of liberal money prizes. Come one, come all—Help solve the great mystery.

Here's how to win:

First, there's no string on this contest. Anybody interested in horses or mules is urged to send in an answer. All I ask is that you don't use more than 100 words, and that you be sure to mention "Checkerboard Bags" in which Purina Feeds are always packed. Now, don't be afraid—come on in everybody! The best answers take the prize—regardless of fancy language or swell handwriting. Plain Purina "Horse Sense" ideas on a post card will win.

Second, sign your name plainly, and also tell me the name of your feed dealer.

Third, mail your guess on or before National Mead Pardon Day. That is February 25th—I selected it specially because my favorite feed, Purina O-Molene, saves my owner 25% of his feed.

Purina O-Molene is wonderful feed for mules and horses. I know, 'cause I'm a mule myself. It's economical, because I like it, and assimilate all of it. I never have trouble digesting all of my O-Molene. Also, it makes me husky and healthy, so that I can do more work for my owner.

Now then, here are the prizes:

For the best answer the prize will be $100.00.

For the next best answer the prize will be $25.00.

For the next best answer the prize will be $10.00.

To the dealer whose customer wins first prize $50.00.

To the dealer whose customer wins second prize $10.00.

To the dealer whose customer wins third prize $5.00.

The judges will be: WALKER HILL, President Mechanics-American National Bank, St. Louis, Mo. A. C. WHITE, Advertising Manager, Brown Shoe Co., St. Louis, Mo. W. M. DANFORTH, President and Founder of the Purina Mills, St. Louis, Mo.

The winning answers will be mailed to you on or before March 25th.

Send your answer straight to me (and hurry) addressed to:

OLD JACKSONVILLE
SOME OLD WAYS

By Ensley Moore
(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

The younger people of today would be much interested or amused at many of the "utilities" or dress or lacks of the early settlers of what was called, even in "the forties," "the Far West," meaning Illinois, among other sections, east of the Mississippi. This war has opened up many new things for women to do, but our grandmothers could give points to the female patriots of today, active and efficient as the latter are, and as deserving of praise.

It may be that the old time ladies who dwelt in log cabins with earth floors did not have to be careful about their carpets or Persian rugs, but they raised splendid families of boys and girls destined to be leaders in public life and in society and up-builders of church and of state.

They did not have many china closets back yonder, but they knew how to cook appetizing viands and their door was open to friend or stranger. People did not send telegrams that they and their families were coming to stay all night or for longer visits. The visitors just "lit in" on the lady of the house, about as the wild pigeons used to fly into a grove and settle down on the branches of the trees, till they bent under the weight.

When "frolics" were had in the old time homes they did not have orchestras or pianos or even melodeons or cabinet organs to use as incentive "to chase the hour" with flying feet, and the old fellows who "tortured the feline" strings had not gone to Brussels to perfect their "Art." But the guests had a good time, and something good to drink contributed to the gaiety—and also to frequent fights among the masculine attendants.

The dresses were made as straight and tight, almost as those of today, but they were made neither of silk nor linen. They were linsey-wolsey or cotton. Both sorts of goods were made by the women folks, after the woolen and cotton materials had been spun and woven by the women of the pioneers—pioneers themselves, as many of their people had been before them. For generations the women's clothes were sometimes passable looking but the clothing for men, after they had "shed" deer-skin garments, were a caution in style or lack of it. The dress of both sexes had to be seen to be fully appreciated.

Cooking Tools.
The early day cooking place was the fireplace and the hot ashes, with an occasional iron "spider" or skillet or pot. Stephen Gorham with four horses and a wagon, and his eldest brother, J. Harry Gorham, with a wagon and five horses, went from Jacksonville to Chicago, not later than the fall of 1835, and brought a load of cooking stoves down here. The first brought here, some say, but Starford Smith claimed to have brought the first cooking stove here, before that, supposedly. He came in 1835. The Gorhams kept a stove apiece and delivered the rest to those who had ordered. Modern cook shop, Matthew Stacey was one and Seth Weatherbee another of the "progressives."

Sewing Machines.
The sewing machine appeared in the West along late in "the forties." Mrs. B. F. Stevenson wrote of these inventions: "I would say I had the first sewing machine in a private family brought to the place. Mr. Goodrick (Joel), the tailor, had one in his shop, but did not like it, and I believe did not use it long. He told my husband sewing machines were of no account, and in a short time mine would be thrown away with the rubbish. But he proved a false prophet, as I used it for many years. * * * I think I brought the first collection of house plants, but of this I am not sure. Unfortunately they were short-lived. Another contestant with Mrs. Stevenson, as first to bring house flowers, was Miss Jane Fayerweather, sister of President Sturtevant's first and second wife.

Revering to matters of dress: Fleming and B. F. Stevenson were early time merchants, in partnership. They sold all sorts of goods, as was usual then. Mrs. B. F. says they brought the first piece of alpaca dress goods here in addition to this Mr. B. F. Stevenson was one of those who banded themselves together to take care of those suffering from cholera. Mr. Stevenson went from here to York, Nebraska, years afterwards and there met a man who had served in that company with him, and helped bury victims of the epidemic.

Going to Church.
Mrs. Fred King was Miss Julia M. Eddy, daughter of the Rev. Mr. Eddy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. She wrote that they came in 1844, and her husband moved a path from their house back of the church to the church. That, no doubt, means that he cut the prairie grass.

The Telegraph.
The "Electric Telegraph" as the papers used to call it, got here about 1853. Before the days of "wiring" there were no "train despatchers," so the trains had to wait for each other indefinitely at the appointed passing places. Railroads were supposed to be means of fast travel, at first, but a good horse, kept going, or a bicycle or automobile would have easily given them the dust.

The best way to find out whether or not a tractor is successful is to watch its performance in the hands of others. That is what thousands of farmers who are now Avery owners did. They watched the work of the first Avery Tractors closely, and it was not long before other Avery Tractors began to arrive in the same neighborhood. The fact that neighbors and relatives buy Avery Tractors after they watch their work closely, is the best proof that Avery Tractors are a success.

THE AVERY LINE GIVES YOU POWER FOR EVERY FARM NEED

You can get an Avery Tractor that exactly fits your size farm. They are built in six sizes—a size for every size farm—from 5-10 to 40-80 H. P. An Avery Tractor will do your plowing and all your other heavy field and belt work. With an Avery Motor Cultivator, you can also plant and cultivate your corn with motor power. It will also do your light field and belt work.

Remember that the five larger sizes of Avery Tractors are built alike with the same standardized design. They are the tractors with the perfected opposed motors and patented sliding frame transmissions. We have a stock of these tractors on our display floor. Come in and see them.

EXPRESSES ENGLAND'S ATTITUDE TO AMERICA

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Viscount Bryce, former British ambassador to the United States speaking today at the Lincoln's Birthday luncheon of the English speaking union and the Atlantic union, Anglo-American societies which recently consolidated, expressed the hearty gratitude of Great Britain to America, both for aid in winning the war and for the moral support given the cause of the allies.

"There is one great service more she may render freedom and humanity," he said, "in the reconstruction of a better world which is being attempted by the Paris conference. Some of the liberated peoples are not yet able to stand alone, but need the help of a civilized power during a limited period to start them on the path of peace and progress, such a case is that of Armenia."

The American people, Lord Bryce added, already have done much for the east by schools, colleges and hospitals they have founded. He continued:

"America is especially fitted for the task because she stands apart from the jealousies of the European powers and none could suspect her of seeking dominion for herself. If it was proposed to America and she would undertake this disinterested duty the British friends of America would rejoice and feel that she had once shown her devotion to noble and unselfish aims."

"Be that as it may, I trust that the British and American policy

PLEASSED WITH WILSON'S IDEALS

"The American friends authorize us to express joy that you are working for justice. We pray that strength beyond your own will be given you to unite the peoples in a league sanctioning moral force toward all humanity as the basis of future international order. We also appeal, for complete disarmament which is vital to all."

PLAN AVIATION CONGRESS.

RECOGNITION DAY AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Impressive Program Given Wednesday in Honor of Seniors—Dr. Harker Made Address.

Nineteen seniors took the principal part in the services of recognition day at the Woman's college Wednesday morning. Mr. H. V. Storans was at the organ to furnish the music for the procession. Members of the faculty in caps and gowns came first, occupying seats upon the platform. Afterward the seniors, also in caps and gowns, marched in with the students of other classes, clad in white, standing at attention. Ordinarily the impressive services of recognition day are held in October but a postponement was necessary this year on account of quarantine regulations.

President Harker in addressing the class used as his theme the lines:

"Four things a man must learn to do
If he would keep his record true;
To think without confusion,
Clearly,
To act from honest motives
Purely,
To trust his fellowmen sincerely,
And trust in Heaven and God securely."

There is much in these lines and Dr. Harker as usual made a very helpful talk. He congratulated the members of the class in having chosen the Woman's college as their Alma Mater and suggested the various advantages that come to students of the smaller colleges by comparison with those who attend the larger universities. There are benefits of personal contact between the faculty members and students in the smaller colleges and opportunities for individual development that do not come nearly so well in the larger institutions. The true meaning of education as it prepares for service was emphasized and altogether the recognition day service was of an impressive kind.

The funeral of I. N. Shade will be held this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the Gillham undertaking rooms. Interment will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

The death of Mr. Shade occurred in Bloomington and was very sudden. In fact, Mr. Shade had been in the office of a doctor just one hour before his death, which was the result of heart disease and hardening of the arteries. Mr. Shade, who lived here for a number of years, was a traveling salesman but had been a resident in Bloomington for a considerable period. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. W. T. Wheatland. Mrs. Shade's name prior to her marriage was Miss Elizabeth Tefft and the family lived here for many years. Long Prominent in Manufacturing Business in Missouri—Has Relatives Here.

Joseph W. Moon died at his home in St. Louis Tuesday night, according to a message received by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Theodore Tyrrel of this city. The deceased was known by a great many Jacksonville people, as he had visited his relatives here a number of times in the past. Death came as the result of a complication of diseases, the final illness extending over a long period.

The deceased who was sixty-eight years of age at the time of his death, was president of the Moon Motor company and of the Joseph W. Moon company of St. Louis, and vice president of the Scheller Implement company of Moline.

He was preceded in death some years ago by his wife, who prior to her marriage was Miss Rebecca Woods of this city. He is survived by two sons and one daughter: Lieut. Earl Moon, now with the motor corps on the western coast; Stanley Moon, a navy aviator at Queenstown, Ireland, and Mrs. Stewart McDonnell of St. Louis.

Mr. Moon had during his long life won a wide reputation as a successful business man. He was a man of kindly nature and made friends of all with whom he associated. A proof of his patriotic spirit is the fact that during the war he suspended manufacture of the famous Moon cars and devoted his factories to the manufacture of ammunition for the government.

WILL CONSOLIDATE RAILROAD TERMINALS

C. B. & Q. and C. & A. Officials Held Conference Here Wednesday—Plans For One Passenger Station.

S. P. Henderson, division superintendent of the C. & A., from Bloomington; W. A. Chittenden, division superintendent of the C. B. & Q. Beardstown; R. W. Willis and A. Crane of the engineering department of the Burlington, were visitors in Jacksonville yesterday. They came for a conference on the proposed consolidation of the C. B. & Q., C. P. & St. L., and the Chicago & Alton terminal facilities. This is the third conference that has been held on this subject and it is the expectation that an early plan of joint terminals will be worked out.

Months ago the C. P. & St. L. freight and passenger business was combined with that of the Burlington under the management of E. F. Mitchell as agent. Just now Mr. Mitchell is ill and E. J. Christopher is the acting agent. Under the present special plan the C. B. & Q. passenger and freight house are used by the two roads. It is now proposed to have the C. & A. business handled jointly with that of the other two roads.

May Enlarge C. &amp; A. Depot.

One of the plans for a passenger terminal is to have a shed extension made on the west side of the C. & A. depot and the Burlington and C. P. & St. L. passenger trains stop there. Just how the freight business would be handled is still under discussion. The present Burlington station would not be large enough to take care of the freight of all three roads. The C. & A. freight house is larger but its location would mean a good deal of additional switching for the movement of C. B. & Q. and C. P. & St. L. freight cars to that terminal. The Alton uses telegraph for train dispatching and the Burlington uses a telephone.

It is possible that under the new joint arrangement that operators will be secured who understand both systems. One plan also under consideration is to have the operators located at the switch tower station on East College avenue. The men employed as operators might also be called upon to take care of the switch changes.

Plans Incomplete.

As indicated, all the details of the plan have not yet been worked out but it is almost certain that the Alton business is to be combined with that of the two other roads, under a plan which is expected to result in certain economies of operation. This same general policy is being followed out all over the country and hundreds of terminal consolidation have been effective for months past.

RED CROSS WORK REPORTS

The following special reports have been made to the directors of the Red Cross society of Morgan county:

Report of Refugee Garment Committee
The work of the Refugee Garment committee, from the time of its appointment in November, to August 1, 1918, consisted in interesting and directing the men of Morgan county, in the making of both new and "made" clothing for the refugees in allied countries under the care of A. R. C.

On August 1, the committee received instructions from the Central Division A. R. C. to discontinue this work into which the Morgan county women had enthusiastically and generously entered.

From that time to the present, the work has been upon a new basis. Only such garments as have been shipped as were ordered by the A. R. C., the material for which has been purchased from the Central division, and placed in the various sewing units of Jacksonville precinct, for making, without cost to them.

To the branches, materials were sold at the same price as paid by the chapters. All layette work to the present time, has been donated by individual units.

The following units in Jacksonville precinct and in the branches, have responded most generously and faithfully to the work:

Jacksonville Precinct Units—

Antioch Aid society, Asbury Aid society, Brooklyn Aid society, Baptist Aid society, Catholic Aid society, Congregational Aid society, Christian Aid society, Centenary Aid society, The D. A. ## LOWDEN HEARD IN ADDRESS ON LINCOLN

Chief Executive of Illinois Delivers Address Upon "Lincoln, the American" Before Middlesex Club at Boston — Contrasts Lives of Lincoln and Darwin, Born on Same Day.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 12.—Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois delivered the following address upon "Lincoln, the American," to-night before the Middlesex Club at the Hotel Somerset.

Principles rather than policies appealed to Abraham Lincoln. All great questions seemed to him to involve some moral quality. It was his habit, therefore, to resolve them into their simple fundamentals. It thus happens that many of his words are as apt and forceful today as when they were first spoken by him. Your club has recognized this fact and has made "Lincoln, the American," the theme of the evening. In harmony with this thought, I shall focus. Out of his study came the things for which Lincoln stood, which directly apply, as it seems to me, to the grave problems with which we and all the world with us are now confronted.

A hundred and ten years ago today, two men were born. Both have been dust for many years. Yet each played a large part in the Great World War that we hope has reached its close. These men were Charles Darwin and Abraham Lincoln. Darwin devoted his life to the study of material things. In that world in which he lived he found heredity and environment to be the controlling factors. Out of his study came the doctrine of the survival of the fittest. The savants of Germany made that doctrine the cornerstone of a new philosophy which they called Kultur.

According to Kultur, the world belonged to the strong and to the strong alone. After a while the world was in the relentless grip of physical force, Justice, gentleness, righteousness were words invented by the weak to protect themselves against the strong. To pity a foe was weakness; to spare him was a crime. Kultur was a denial of the moral law; was a blind faith in the power of the laws of life which Darwin had declared.

Interpreter of Moral Laws.

On the same day, in a cabin in Kentucky, Abraham Lincoln was born. If heredity, and environment had been all there was in human life, we never should have heard his name. While Darwin delved in rocks to find vanished forms of life, Lincoln studied men. He learned to know men. By them his sympathies were quickened; the moral depths of his being were stirred; the right and wrong of human conduct engaged his deepest thought. Just as the laws of physical being unfolded under the eye of the great scientist, so the laws of the moral universe disclosed themselves to the great man. It was said that Darwin could take a single bone of some extinct and unknown animal and reconstruct that animal perfectly. Lincoln at the same time could take a single wrong to society and reconstruct society, to the everlasting benefit of all.

Lincoln never read the Origin of Species, but he knew that, under the moral law, an injury by a superior race to an inferior race is a world of compensation and he who would be no slave must consent to have no slave. And those who deny freedom to others deserve it not for themselves and under a just God cannot long retain it.

Unconsciously, Lincoln became the interpreter of the moral laws of society, just as Darwin became the interpreter of the physical laws of life. Therefore, to Lincoln all men had the inalienable right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Lincoln was as much at home amidst the play of moral and spiritual forces as was Darwin in the realm of mere matter. It was this moral grandeur to which Lincoln attained that made him the wisest of all men. For, after all, wisdom is largely a product of character. Men may be intellectually brilliant, indeed brilliant beyond compare, and yet be utterly lacking in wisdom. Where other men had views, Lincoln had convictions. Convictions come from the heart and not from the brain. And so if there comes a question of human liberty, of human rights, one may turn to Lincoln for an answer without inquiring as to the particular year in which he wrote. There is a perfect harmony running through all his utterances.

Inspiration of Allies.

It is not strange that as Kultur was partially founded upon the doctrine of Darwin, so the allies found their chief inspiration in the life of Abraham Lincoln. For this great contest was a war between the material forces of the world, upon the one hand, and the spiritual forces on the other. Where the Central Empires found comfort in the Origin of Species, the statesmen of England and France, and of Italy and the United States read the Gettysburg speech and the Second Inaugural, which renewed their faith and refreshed their courage.

Darwin and Lincoln! Darwin announcing the survival of the strong! Lincoln declaring that when being mounted up to man, love also came into the universe to shield the weak! Lincoln insisting that when the laws of the physical universe and of the moral universe clash, those of the moral universe will prevail! Thank God, our soldiers, on a score of immortal battlefields in the last two years, have proven that Lincoln was right. The victory which we celebrate is the victory of spiritual forces over the things of earth.

Lincoln truly served mankind because he loved mankind. Genuine service must always spring from the promptings of the heart, and is never a product of the will alone. It was your own poet Lowell who said:

"How beautiful to see
Once more a shepherd of man-kind
Who loved his charge, but never loved to lead."

And so he couldn't help giving his tenderest thought to the working man. He cared for him because he cared for all men. All are familiar with his significant saying that the Lord loves plain people because He made so many of them.

Question of Labor and Capital.

With reference to the age-old question of labor and capital, he declared—"Labor is prior to and independent of capital. Capital is only the fruit of labor and could never have existed if labor had not first existed. Labor is the superior of capital and deserves much the highest consideration." This is but another way of saying that society should chiefly concern itself with the lot in life of the average man. And this is but saying, in another form, that Lincoln was a lover of humanity. The Declaration of Independence to which, again and again, he turned in his thinking, included not only the right to life and liberty, but the right to the pursuit of happiness as well. And it is interesting to note that though Lincoln emphasized the right to liberty—for slavery was the dominant issue at the time—he never referred to the Declaration, so far as I can find, without coupling it with the right to liberty, the right to the pursuit of happiness. Life means much; liberty means much; but both fail unless life can be lived and liberty enjoyed under conditions of well-being. Any form of government is but a means to an end, and that end is the happiness of the individual. I am sure that in our almost a century and a half of existence, since that great day of Independence, more men have lived happy lives in our country and under our form of government than in any other in all the history of the world.

But the happiness and well-being of the average man and woman must be steadily advanced if our institutions are to endure. The economists may explain, the statesmen may excuse our failure to accomplish this, but the fact remains that our civilization will fail if the well-being of the men and women and children of America shall not continuously improve.

Cannot Destroy Initiative.

This cannot be, however, in my opinion, if we destroy private initiative in industry. For every invention, for every improved process made under the stimulus of private initiative, though the inventor may profit, society profits immeasurably more. Steadily reducing amount of human labor is all the time required to produce the necessities of life. If we shall abandon the ancient landmarks and substitute for private initiative and private industry a socialistic state, the progress of mankind will be arrested and retrogression will set in. Again Lincoln speaks to us; it is a message for today—"The legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done but cannot do at all or cannot so well do for themselves in their separate and individual capacity. In all that the people can do individually do as well for themselves, government ought not to interfere." He also warns us—"let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

Lincoln was above all a great American. Indeed, it was that same poet of yours, when I have already quoted, who said of him—"new birth of our new soil, the first American."

All his life he hated slavery but he loved his country more. He accepted battle not to free the slave but to save the Union. With sad heart, but with steadfast courage, he faced the greatest war the world had ever seen to keep the flag of his country—and not of the world—flying in the sky.

There are those who believe they can see somewhere high in the sky a shadowy banner, upon which is written the word "internationalism." To some this far-away flag seems white and to others red. They believe that this flag is to supersede the flag of all the nations of the earth. That time may come, but it will come only when men shall cease to love their own, when they shall care for others' families equally with their own. In the meantime we can serve humanity best by serving our own country first.

Vision Circled the Globe.

Lincoln said: "I do not mean to say that this general government is charged with the duty of redressing or preventing all the wrongs in the world; but I do think that it is charged with preventing and redressing all wrongs which are wrongs to itself." These words might indicate that Lincoln was not interested in humanity beyond our own borders. This is not so. All through his writings runs the thought that our cause was the cause of humanity. In his speech at Gettysburg, he did not say—"Let us highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish" from the United States, but "from the earth." His vision circled all the globe. His great heart was beating in sympathy with mankind everywhere. But he knew that the surest way to help the world was to cherish our priceless heritage at home. He knew that if we could preserve intact the liberties and institutions which we called our own, that was the greatest service we could render to mankind.

How well he wrought I doubt if ever he himself could fully understand. The condition of mankind the world over has been constantly improving, due to our influence and our example. The American republic has been an inspiration to the lovers of liberty everywhere. It is the last and best hope of the world and he who would imperil its future by excess of love for other peoples and other lands is recreant not only to his country, but to mankind everywhere. The republic, during its almost a century and a half of existence, has had a mighty influence throughout the world. Its power has come from its success as a self-governing nation. Our influence has run around the globe because we have contented ourselves with being an exemplar to, rather than a ruler of mankind.

Lincoln did preserve the Union and free the slaves. That nation which he saved had grown so powerful in a little more than fifty years that it was able, in the supreme crisis of civilization, to turn the tide of the great world conflict. And as he prayed, so now we may have faith to believe that "government of the people, by the people, for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Why Swift & Company Handle Poultry, Eggs, Butter and Cheese

Swift & Company went into the produce business because they saw a crying need for the kind of service they were equipped to perform.

The produce business was in chaos. Collecting, transportation, preparation and distribution was hit-or-miss, with delay, deterioration and loss on every hand.

The farmer was at the mercy of an uncertain, localized market. He had no way of reaching through to the people who needed what he was raising for them. There was no premium upon improving his stocks, for grading was lax or lacking.

The consumer had to accept produce that, as a rule, had no known responsible name behind it. He had no way of knowing how long the eggs or the butter he was buying had been lying around in miscellaneous lots in the back room of a country store. Much of the poultry was not properly refrigerated before shipment or properly protected by refrigeration in transit.

Swift & Company's initiative brought system to this chaos. Their organization, equipment, and experience in handling perishable food products were already adjusted to the task. Their refrigerator cars, branch houses, central points, far-reaching connections, trained sales force, supplied just what was demanded.

Now the farmer has a daily cash market in touch with the nation's needs with better prices. Standardization makes better produce more profitable. More consumers are served with better, fresher, finer foodstuffs.

Nothing suffers from this save inefficiency, which has no claim upon public support.

LAST RITES SAID FOR J. A. OBERMEYER

Large Gathering at Residence for Funeral Services Yesterday Afternoon—Rev. W. R. Johnson of Winchester in Charge.

A large number of friends gathered at the residence, 214 North Church street Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to hear the last rites said for J. A. Obermeyer. Rev. W. R. Johnson, an intimate friend of the deceased, was in charge of the service.

"Lead Kindly Light" was sung by a quartet composed of Miss Hazel Belle Long, Miss Carrie Spire, A. C. Metcalf, and M. E. Gilbert. Rev. Mr. Johnson then read a number of passages of scripture and the quartet sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

After the reading a sketch of Mr. Obermeyer, Rev. Mr. Johnson took his text from the words, "Truly as the Lord liveth and as thy soul liveth, there is but a step between me and death."

The speaker referred to a visit he made to Mr. Obermeyer last Saturday when he found him in his usual health and in a happy frame of mind.

From this he drew a lesson on the uncertainty of life and the certainty of death. He paid a beautiful tribute to the home life of Mr. Obermeyer, of his devotion to his family and of his sterling friendship which would always live with those who shared it.

Members of Harmony lodge No. 3 A. F. & A. M., of which Mr. Obermeyer was a member, attended the funeral in a body and the beautiful funeral ritual of the order was carried out at the grave with C. P. Ross as worshipful master.

There were many beautiful floral offerings and these were in charge of Mrs. T. A. Ebrey, Mrs. Mort Van Houten, Mrs. C. A. Obermeyer and Miss Helen Stranberg.

Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery, the learners being Owen

Graff, P. V. Coover, J. A. Long, J. T. Davis, M. E. Gilbert and J. F. Shreve.

LEGISLATORS LOOK OVER RESERVOIR SITE

Members of Appropriations Committee Here to Meet Committee on Water Supply—Favorable and Early Action is Predicted.

Everything is moving along in a satisfactory way for the passage by the Illinois legislature of bill No. 114 introduced by Representative Jacob Frisch. This bill proposes that the department of public welfare shall be given authority to convey to the city of Jacksonville certain lands adjacent to the pumping station. The bill was introduced not long since and referred to the committee on appropriations.

Dr. C. A. Young and O. C. Sonnemann, members of the appropriations committee of the general assembly came to Jacksonville Wednesday evening to look over the ground, consult with city officials and the water committee, and to make a report of their findings. The visitors made it clear, after going into the subject thoroughly, that the appropriation committee will report favorably on the bill and that promptly.

Favorable Action Expected

There is every reason to expect that favorable action will be taken by the legislature and that the authority will be given for the leasing of the proposed reservoir site to Jacksonville. The bill which provides this authority is an administration measure and has the full backing of the department of public welfare, and it is hoped that it can secure the necessary two-thirds and thus be passed with an emergency clause which will make it immediately effective.

Dr. Young and Mr. Sonnemann have been in the legislature for a considerable period and both have been members of the appropriations committee for six years. They reached Jacksonville on the 5:20 o'clock Wabash train Wednesday evening and were met at the station by Dr. J. R. Harker, as chairman of the citizens' committee on water supply; Commissioners Martin, Vasconcellos and White; E. M. Henderson, public engineer; M. R. Fitch, J. W. Merigan and T. A. Chapin, members of the water committee, and Dr. E. L. Hill, superintendent of Jacksonville state hospital. Mayor Rodgers and Commissioner Widmayer were unable to be present.

Looked Over Ground

The party went in automobiles immediately to the proposed reservoir site and as it was still light Dr. Young and Mr. Sonnemann were able to look over the ground and get an accurate understanding of what the bill proposes and the character of land which the state is asked to transfer. Both of the visitors were greatly impressed with the fact that the character of the ground near the pumping station makes an enormous reservoir a practical possibility.

Both of the legislators altho in different language, suggested "Why hasn't this been done long ago? You have here almost a natural reservoir and the construction of a comparatively short distance of reservoir wall will make an impounding basin of enormous size. The figures you have show that such a reservoir will hold more than 400,000,000 gallons of water, and since we are more or less familiar with the water supply troubles you have had in the past, we cannot help wondering why relief has not been secured from a reservoir long before this."

After Fifty Years

Dr. Harker explained to the visitors that the plan was inaugurated fifty years ago when an English engineer who was on a visit in Chicago was brought to Jacksonville by a committee, surveyed the location where now it is proposed to build the reservoir, and at that time drew plans and specifications showing that the proposition was entirely feasible. At that early date city officials or the special committee to whom the matter was introduced proceeded with the erection of the water works but the project of building a great impounding reservoir there was thought to be larger than could be successfully attempted because of the large expenditure involved.

After all the years of waiting and experimenting with other ways and means, citizens and officials have gone back to the reservoir plan and it is now believed that it is only a question of a comparatively few months until the whole project has been financed and the actual work of construction begun.

Joint Committee Work

People are familiar with the fact that months ago a bond issue of $75,000 was authorized for the construction of the dam and filtration plant. A joint committee of water supply has secured some options for leasing and other options for purchase of necessary land. There are two or three property owners with whom no tentative arrangements have been made but it is confidently believed that a satisfactory understanding can be reached with all the property interests as soon as the question of securing the necessary money has been settled. The principal objection in the way of this settlement has been the inability to secure a deed to the land from the state, which it would have found only thru legislative action.

State is Interested

Members of the appropriations committee of the legislature visiting here said that the state officials recognize that state institutions here are vitally interested in the erection of a water plant, and that the opportunity is afforded thru the pending bill of securing a permanent supply of water for the institutions here and at the same time benefitting the whole city of Jacksonville. This can be done, too, without loss to the state. In fact there would be direct benefit thru the terms of the bill, which proposes the transfer to the city of 55 acres of land adjoining the pumping station.

This bill provides that in view of the transfer that water should be furnished to the state institutions at a rate as low as is given to railroads or any other corporations. It also provides that an annual fee of $300 shall be paid by the city to the state, these payments to be made in monthly installments of $25 and the money deducted from the water bills as rendered. The changes in water rates affecting the institutions which the bill includes would mean a yearly saving to the state institutions of from $2,000 to $2,400.

Conference at Supper Hour

After inspecting the reservoir site the members of the party went to Peacock Inn where supper was served and at 9 o'clock members of the legislature returned to Springfield. During the supper hour there was further discussion of the local water question, together with some interesting conversation about state affairs.

Altogether the Jacksonville men were very much gratified that Dr. Young and Mr. Sonnemann came to make this first hand investigation, and they were impressed with the fact that the visitors while evidently anxious to fully safeguard the interests of the state, also are desirous of doing anything possible to assist the people of Jacksonville in the solution of their great problem—the water supply.

Mr. Sonnemann is a resident of Carlinville and Dr. Young comes from the eighth ward of Chicago.
